Local Cheese Factory Now Going Up

CROP REPORT

A two foot wide foundation was laid last week for the 50x150 foot building which is to house the Cheese Factory office, egg grading station, locker storage set up and cheese factory proper. When we say it is going to be a large building we mean large, if you don't think so take a look at the foundation and the cinder blocks which are now going into place.

Plans call for a cement floor, part of which may be laid with tile for longer wear, cinder brick walls with special lumber and insulation for the cheese aging room, the quick chill room and the locker storage room, where steady temperatures at different degrees must be maintained for the various uses to which the rooms will be put. 250 lockers are being installed to start with, and room will be left available to increase this to 400, and it is expected that before many months pass when the benefits and conveniences of the lockers become apparent that the additional 150 will be sold.

The cheese factory will be equipped with two 10,000 gallon vats and two presses, besides scales, testing equipment, washing racks for the cans, and a conveyor to bring the full cans in and take the empty ones out. In light of present prices for cheese, milk producers should receive very satisfactory returns from their cows, and the industry should prove a very stabilizing factor in the local set-up. Progress of the construction will be keenly watched, and we are informed that equipment is already for shipment just as soon as the factory reaches the point in building when it can be installed.

Steve Sera is around again after a week in hospital, following injuries received when the rake team ran away with him.

Jack Morton of Warner is the 1942 Canadian Champion Calf Roper, and Jimmy Wells of the Blood Reserve at Cardston won the Steer Decorating.

Gerry Cobb from the Lumber Yard and Howard Mechin of the Grocery Department of the Mercantile have been on their vacation this week.

CULINARY CUES

Ethel M. Chapman is a native of Hatton County, Ontario, and a distinguished graduate of Mac Donald College. She is the author of several books and editor of the Home Section of the Farmer's Magazine. She is an expert in matters relating to nutrition and food conservation and will make this her subject when she appears as guest speaker on the National Farm Radio Forum, on Monday, July 20th, at 9.30 p.m. CDT (8.30 p.m. MDT). This programme is heard regularly over Station CBK, Watrous.

Crop conditions over the district continue good. Refreshing storms Saturday, and a heavy shower Thursday morning added to the moisture and gave the heavy growth of hay and grain the moisture needed. Rapid progress is noted in beet and grain fields, and beets have been hoed again now and look good although a little behind normal crops. There has been no pest damage reported as yet.

Grain crops are forging ahead and show a very heavy growth. Early barley on the ridge is going down in some fields due to the heavy heads and the weak straw. Wheat and oats are standing up good so far and promise a heavy yield. Heads are exceptionally long and heavy. Alfalfa was a heavy crop and most of it is stacked but not without some rain at field. Bishop Walker has a 150 acre field of sweet clover hay cut and waiting to be hauled off the field.

NEWS NOTES

A. E. Hancock was a business visitor in Milk River the end of the week.

Derek Booth of England, who is stationed at the Air Training School at Pearce, Alberta, was a guest of Harold Rolfe over the week-end.

T. E. Roberts and his crew have been busy the past ten days and the Anderson's new house, which is now all closed in and the interior finishing is going ahead now.

Good rain had three hail storms Sunday night, not devastating, but had enough to riddle leaves on various stuff of all kinds and to make flower garden look really sick.

Congratulations today to S. B. Smith on his birthday, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney H. Smith on their wedding anniversary. They celebrated by spending Wednesday at the Temple.

Taber oil wells are the centre of a great deal of interest now and it looks as though several wells may be drilled there this summer in order to increase, or maintain the production of oil in the Province.

L. D. King, Jas. E. Meeks, A. J. Walton, Henry Jensen, and Wm. Wiggill were amongst Raymond visitors at the Cardston Stampede Wednesday afternoon. Cardston put on a very good show and they certainly had some real buckers in the corals.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones furnished the program in the First Ward Sunday evening last and supplied a very interesting program. According to Bishop Hickson this family night program highlights the evening meeting of his ward and certainly brings out a large and appreciative audience.

With the Stake Presidency in charge, two splendid meetings were held at Tyrell's Lake Church on Sunday when a branch Conference of the Wrentham, Warner and Tyrell's Lake branches were held. A lovely lunch was served between meetings by the ladies and a most enjoyable time was enjoyed by all who attended.

Rotarians Visit Bombing And Gunnery School

The members of the local Rotary are deeply indebted to Wing Commander W. A. Jones of the Bombing and Gunnery School No. 8 and to the Lethbridge Rotary Club for a most instructive and enjoyable luncheon and tour of the school on Monday of this week.

Gathering at the mess room at 12.30 a fine lunch was served, typical of the school's everyday menu. It consisted of grapefruit, soup, vegetables, meat, and it was a fine piece of steak, ice cream and strawberries, with cake, and tea, coffee or milk. Everyone had all they could tuck away and greatly enjoyed it.

Then a tour of the institution was started, and when we say institution, we mean just that. One has to get on the inside and look out to really appreciate what there is there. We visited the hospital, where they are equipped to care for any and every emergency. The officers' quarters, the recreation hall of the Women's Division, the big mess hall and kitchen where they feed 1,200 at a meal and where mechanical equipment includes even the peeling of spuds and washing of dishes. Then we went to the recreation hall and the store room, or supply depot where food is bought in bulk and issued to the kitchens according to requirements. The same issue per man prevails in all arms of the land service whether it be air force, army or reserve units, exactly the same ration are used. In the store were boxes, the bales and casks of every thing used in the meals & two coolers one for meat, and the other for eggs, butter and shortening. On the doors of the meat coolers were specifications regarding the quality of the meat, and any meat that failed to meet those specifications was simply not bought. Any rumors about differences in rations in any of the schools or camps, should be spik ed at once, for there is a stand ard for every service except the Navy, and very school and camp receives exactly the same of everything according to location and the season of the year.

An inspection was undertaken of the mechanical part of the school and different kinds of planes were viewed at close range, planes on which repairs and adjustments were being made. Airmen were coming in and going out on their machine gun practice, and we learned how a marksman learned of his score with the machine gun. We stood near the runway as planes landed and took off and held our hats as the prop whirled up the wind as they taxied out to take off. A bombing training station was visited where photos of miles of territory are flashed on a table, and the bomber sets his sights and shoots as if in actual bombing and his scoring is recorded on the picture. An array of technical and mechanical equipment that dazzles one is put to use in the training of bombers and gunners and the force of instructors on hand to impart the knowledge of a technique developed that turns the men out rapidly and well qualified to take their positions in the ships and deal out death and destruction with tanks and machine guns in no uncertain manner.

From beginning to end the visit was educational and instructive and will be long remembered by everyone who participated and will give us all a deeper appreciation of bombing and gunnery and the vast army of men behind the scenes. We will all have a greater determination to see that they are kept fed.

Municipal Council Meeting

The Municipal Council of Sugar City held all day sessions Tuesday, not finishing until 10 p.m., to take care of all the business that demanded attention. They commenced at 10 a.m. Cor respondent from the Oil Controller disclosed that they could not be given any special consideration in the matter of gas and oil, because of their work on the Council, and so they stayed throughout the day until their work was completed.

Weeds, which are a real problem this year were discussed at some length, and upon request of Walter Zobell, Weed Inspector for this part of the district, a motion was passed authorizing the inspectors to hire weeds cut on roadways and charged to the taxes of the owner if the owner refused to destroy these weeds himself. Five small weed burners were ordered purchased, the idea being to keep one in each of the five districts to be used to fight especially noxious weeds that need immediate work.

A delegation representing the Raymond District Municipal Hospital was present asking for a resolution of support for their plan, and this was passed by the Council.

The new road through the McIntyre lease to the border was discussed, and Reeve Matson and J. S. Henry were appointed to meet with Mr. Bradley, resident engineer, and work out a plan of co-operation on this road with the Provincial Government, so that parts of the road could be gravelled and the fence put up along it. The Council voted $2,500.00 for this project.

Miss Edythe Woolley, Raymond, was appointed, full time, a Sistant Sec. Treas. her duties to begin at once. As soon as, or whenever the office work demands it, a stenographer will be added to the staff.

NEWS NOTES

Bishop Erickson of Stirling was in Raymond on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swanson of Winnipeg are visiting with relatives and friends in Raymond.

Representatives of the Dairy Supplies, Ltd., of Calgary, were in town Tuesday and made a final check-up with cheese factory officials representing the factory equipment.

Ros. R. May, brother of Ye Ed., who has been ill for more than two years past, passed away in the Cardston Hospital Thursday night about 9 p.m. He had been gradually growing weaker all the time and for the past four months his condition has been very serious. Funeral will be held in Magrath on Sunday.

Air Cadets Busy And Having Good Time Enlistments

Albert LeRoy Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Green of Raymond, Alta., has been enlisted in the Royal Air Force at the Calgary Recruiting Centre as an Aircrew. AC2 Green, A.L., will commence his Air Force training Nov. 4, 1942. Previous enlistment, Aircraftman Green has been farming with his father here.

John Melchum Heggie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Reggie of Raymond, Alta., has been enlisted in the Royal Canadian Air Force at the Calgary Recruiting Centre as a Wireless Operator Air Gunner and will commence his Air Force training at No. 3 Manning Depot, Edmonton, on July 28, 1942. Previous to his enlistment Johnny has been assisting on the farm here.

NEWS NOTES

Mrs. Schorn of Drumheller has spent the past week in Raymond with relatives and friends. Mrs. Schorn is a sister of Mrs. Parley McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmour are at present holidaying from the Bank of Montreal, having left over the week-end for their old home in northern Alberta.

Taber Hospital District received its official sanction last week and the district is to be known as Taber Hospital District No. 27. Congratulations Taber.

Regular Town Council meeting was held Monday evening last. No new business was introduced and the meeting adjourned at 10.30 after receiving the cash statement for the month and passing their bills.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Snow left the first of the month for an extended holiday in Utah and Nevada. It is hoped that the home and a rest may benefit both Mr. & Mrs. Snow, who have been ill during the past winter and spring.

Miss Edythe Woolley, Raymond, was appointed, full time, a Sistant Sec. Treas. her duties to begin at once. As soon as, or whenever the office work demands it, a stenographer will be added to the staff.

HOW THE PRINTER'S DEVIL GOT HIS NAME

To prove that there's a thing inherently diabolical about the printing business, here is the story of how the "printer's devil" got his name.

The famed sixteenth century printer, Aldus Manutius, brought to his shop in Venice a negro boy as his helper. Venetians thought the dark-skinned lad was a creature of the devil himself and so called him.

The hue and cry waded hot, and really old Aldus published the notice: "I, Aldus Manutius, printer to the Holy Church and to the Doge, have his day made public exposure of my 'devil.' All who think he is not flesh and bone may come and pinch him." - Typographical Journal, N.Y.

DR. J. S. SHOEMAKER

Dr. James Sheldon Shoemaker of Edmonton, professor of horticulture at the University of Alberta, is conducting CBC's Gardening Series (Wednesday's, 6.45 p.m. CDT, 5.45 MDT, which will continue to be heard for the remainder of July. Dr. Shoemaker is a native of Montreal, and a graduate of Ontario Agricultural College. He is a Master of Science of Iowa State College and a Ph.D. of the University of Minnesota. For nine years he was associate agriculturist at Ohio State University. He came to Alberta in 1935. Dr. Shoemaker is the author of a widely used text, "Small Fruits," and has also written about 100 booklets on a wide range of horticultural subjects.

HOSPITAL PLAN ADVANCES

The Hospital Committee have now received resolutions from Municipal and Town Councils favoring the organization and getting up of a Hospital District for Raymond and the territory south and east. The necessary forms are now assembled for mailing, and when received in Edmonton, permission will be granted for the setting up of a Provisional Board, and the preliminary work proceeded with.

The success or failure of this plan will rest squarely now with the men and women of the district interested in the plan. Municipal hospitals are being organized and built in various parts of the province now, as a means of meeting the gasoline rationing and tire question. The success of Municipal Hospitals in operation over a period of years is all the proof one needs of the soundness of the plan and of its benefits to those who come under its benefits. True, it means a little extra in taxation, but this amount is so small compared with the possible savings that it is the cheapest insurance one can get and insurance that every one needs.

Public sentiment plays a great part in the success of these matters. The Committee asks that if you want information on the plan, probable cost, and so on you ask those who have the information and can inform you correctly. Let us see that no false statements are circulated

CHANGES IN TRAINING

Important changes in the training and designation of Royal Canadian Air Force aircrews is indicated by recent instructions from Air Force Headquarters as received at the Calgary recruiting centre wherein several new branches of aircrew duties has been announced. Henceforth in addition to the established categories of Pilots, Air Observers, and Wireless Operators (Air Gunners,) there has been added those of Air Navigators, Air Bombers and Air Gunners.

Under the new plan, candidates will be enlisted in three aircrew divisions. Those who will proceed from the Manning Depots and customary training must have Junior Matriculation or its equivalent through academic training under the War Emergency Training Plan and will graduate from Initial Training School as potential Air Observers, Pilots, Air Navigators or Air Bombers. The second class are those selected for training as Aircrew (Wireless School)

These candidates will be posted following training and outfitting to a Wireless School. The third division is Aircrew (Air Gunners). These men are Air Gunners and proceed to a Bombing and Gunnery School.

The new set up means that now, lack of formal education is not a bar to enlistment for aircrew duties, for there is a classification to fit all who have ordinary public schooling, provided they prove themselves suitable in other respects by passing the medical and classification tests as administered at R.C.A.F. recruiting centres.

Age limits for flying personnel remain the same, that is 18 to 32 inclusive (except for pilots where the limit is 30 or under). Height and weight requirements for Aircrew (Initial Training School) are maximum height 6' 3" and under 210 pounds. Aircrew (Wireless School) and Aircrew (Air Gunners) must not be over 6 feet or weigh more than 175 pounds.

The Air Gunner is one R.C.A.F. trade where it pays to be a "bantam". The Air Gunner's duties in operational flying often means close confinement in the narrow limits of a fighter or bomber plane gun turret for long stretches. For this reason many who come well within the height and weight limits may be unsuitable owing to their particular build being of the "short stout" type. One has to be able to move quickly at times in the important business of protecting the aircraft from enemy attack.

One point is common with all classes of aircrew. All who graduate from their respective training courses do so with the rank of Sergeant and in a number of cases as commissioned officers. Sergeant's pay plus flying pay makes the R.C.A.F. airman a pretty flush individual on pay day. The scale runs from a Sergeant Air Gunner at $2.95 per pay to a Pilot Officer at $6.25 which includes Flying Pay.

New quotas have been received at the R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre in Calgary and men for aircrew duties can receive either immediate enlistment and posting to a manning depot or enlistment and posting on leave with out pay until a later date.

A. H. Zabriskie is holidaying from the Sugar Co. office and he and Mrs. Zabriskie and the family are spending a couple of weeks in Waterton Park.

TORONTO MAN WINS
CONTEST

P. W. MacDonald Gains Song
Prize of Family Herald and Weekly Star

Percy W. MacDonald, Toronto, is winner of the $50.00 First Prize in the recent Canadian War Song Contest conducted by the Family Herald and Weekly Star to set music to the words "Come Along Canadians," by Robert Main, of Nelson, B. C., which won the prize for a lyric.

The composition, judged to be the best of 424 submitted, was broadcast over C.B.C. on July 8th on the regular band program of H. M. Canadian Grenadier Guards, together with the songs of the two next best composers, Delbert Piette and J. Fenwick Watkin. All numbers were sung by John Grant, radio singer and member of the Family Herald and Weekly Star staff.

The judges of the Contest were Captain J.J. Gagnier, H.P. Bell, music critic of the Montreal Star, and W. S. Low, of the Canadian Music Sales Corporation. The latter has published the prize winning song, which is now on sale.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star is indeed to be congratulated on promoting this Contest. Not only has it provided encouragement for Canadian composers but it has resulted in providing a spirited war song that should help us step briskly in our march along the Road to Victory.

EXPERIMENTS WITH SAFFLOWER

Safflowers have been commanding some attention for many years from both dry land and irrigation farmers in the northern States bordering on Alberta and Saskatchewan, but so far the acreage devoted to them has not been large. However, more attention is now being given to them as there is reason to believe that they may be found useful, especially under war conditions, as an oil producing crop.

In the United States extensive laboratory tests have been made with the oil from safflowers and manufacturers have reported favourably upon it for use in the paint and varnish industries. It has been found particularly good in making white paints and enamels where permanent white paint is desired, and it is essential to avoid a yellowing appearance which frequently appears later in the case of many white paints. Feeding experiments have also indicated that the cake or meal produced in manufacturing safflower oil furnish a protein-rich concentrate much like cottonseed meal, linseed meal, or soybean meal.

The growing of safflowers has in the past been confined largely to India, Egypt, and to a small extent in China, Japan, Turkistan, and parts of Europe. In India it is used mostly for edible purposes and for making soap. In the Bombay district between 500,000 and 600,000 acres of safflowers are grown annually.

Safflowers have been tested in small plots a few seasons at the Lethbridge Station. Further work should be done with them before recommending them definitely as a safe and profitable crop for farmers to grow. They do, however, appear fairly promising. Like soybeans, they require the whole season to ripen and if they do become important in Alberta it will probably be only in the South in part of the province. In crop two seasons they were damaged slightly by frost in the fall, but it is thought now that this could have been avoided by earlier seeding. Safflowers can be sown almost as early as wheat, and they are very resistant to frost in their early stage of growth.

Last season at the Lethbridge Station seven varieties of Safflowers were grown in small test plots on irrigated land and the average yield per acre of these seven varieties was 2457 pounds per acre. The oil content ran around 24 to 25 per cent which was considered quite satisfactory. At present there is no demand for safflower oil in Canada, but United States workers claim that it would be satisfactory in that country for certain purposes. It is not likely to become very important in Southern Alberta unless it is shown as time progresses that there is a special demand for the oil or that it can be produced more economically than linseed oil, which will be its chief competitor. Safflowers have one big advantage in that on account of the very stiff stems of the plant, the crop can remain standing a few weeks if necessary, after ripening without suffering any damage from lodging, shattering birds, or adverse weather. Strapping combining is usually the best method of harvesting.

ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCEThe Nations Dance For Jimmy Gowler

When not otherwise engaged, Jimmy Gowler, youthful Winnipeg musician and orchestra leader, spends most of his waking hours chasing tunes. He chases them through Winnipeg's crowded cosmopolitan streets, and through rural Manitoba when the opportunity offers. In some town or country home, some farmer or town dweller from Russia, or Czechoslovakia, or Norway, or Sweden, or Denmark, hums over a folk-dance remembered from his light-footed youth, and Jimmy, with a stub pencil & the back of an envelope jots it down. A week or so later you hear it on CBC's "Dances of the Nations" (Saturdays, at 11.30 p.m. CDT, 10.30 p.m. MD T). A few days ago some of Winnipeg's lovely young dancers from several national groups came down to the CBC studios during rehearsal to show Jimmy how the dances really went. Here they are: Miss Gladys Pundyk, in Polish costume, is demonstrating a polonaise, while standing by and clapping hands to the gay music are Miss Marion Kummén, of Norway, and Miss Greta Hammarstrand, of Sweden. Miss Kummén is the daughter of Mr. C. T. Kummén, Winnipeg's Norwegian consul. The costumes worn by the young ladies are not only complete and authentic, but extremely valuable at present—almost irreplaceable.

K. J. Keat of the Treasury Branch is away on his holidays now having gone to Cardston Saturday night last.

A man, evidently drunk, sagged down in a seat in the lobby beside a clergyman. "Fine (hic) day," he began.

"Yes, it is," from the clergyman.

"Thish's fine hotel."

"Yes, I find it very comfortable."

"Wontcha have a drink?"

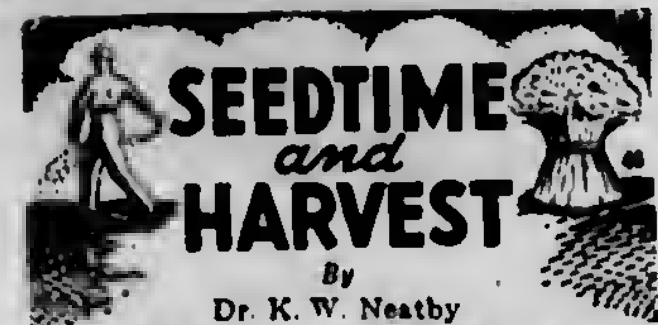

The man asked, encouraged by the courteous replies of his chance acquaintance.

The parlor's face set severely.

"No, thank you," he said, "I never indulge."

"Shay, whatcha givin' me?"

You gotcha collar on backwards now."

RAIN

It is a wonderful thing to see the prairie provinces green from the foothills to Winnipeg. Of course, we shall have troubles, but they will be easier to bear than those which result from widespread drought.

If we get fair rains this month and if frost does not extensive damage, a large wheat crop is assured. Harvest labour and storage space will be problems we shall have to meet somehow.

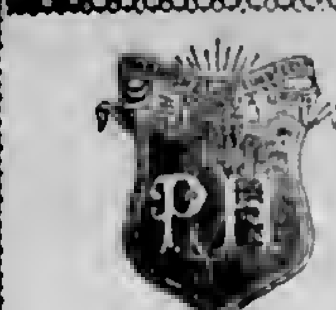

We rarely offer advice to farmers, but will risk doing so now. Drought will come again just as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow morning. What a year this is to set aside some feed reserves—wild hay, tame hay and feed grains. True, there will be mighty little grainy space available for feed grains; but what about stacking? Surely every farmer producing livestock should have a good row of sheaf oats and barley stacks this fall.

Stacking is almost a lost art, but it should be recovered. Only through skill and experience can a uniform row of attractive, symmetrical stacks be built. However, to preserve the sheaves, the most important consideration is keeping the stack high in the middle while building. If, after settling, the sheaves become horizontal or slightly down at the head ends, rain will work in and the grain may be ruined. So, while building, the middle must be kept high and then, after settling, all sheaves will slope slightly down towards the butts and the grain should remain in good shape for years.

Don't stack wet or damp sheaves.

The average life of an automobile is seven and one-half years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Organ and children returned Monday evening from Calgary after a short holiday trip. They intended seeing the Stampede Saturday afternoon, but were rained out with thousands of others, when a very heavy rain blanketed Calgary during the afternoon and evening, filling subways and making young rivers of the streets.

Edon J. O. Hicken, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wing and Mesdames Richardson and Carter were at the Cardston Temple on Wednesday afternoon.

Angus was displaying to his neighbor, McDonald, the second-hand car he'd bought.

"It looks fine, mon," said McDonald, "but Ah'm thinkin' it'll be costin' ye a lot in petrol."

"No' on bad," replied Angus proudly. "Ye ken it's downhill to the town, I and get a tow home most days."
